Proceeds from this tournament support MBF Prevention Education Programs, a series of comprehensive, evidence-based/evidence-informed, prevention programs that educate and empower children and teens with strategies to prevent, recognize, and respond appropriately to bullying, cyberbullying, online dangers, all types of child abuse, and exploitation/trafficking. Over 90% of abusers are someone the child knows, loves, and trusts. Children and teens need our programs more than ever and we need your help to make sure they receive it.

The Monique Burr Foundation for Children (MBF) is a nonprofit organization started by Edward E. Burr in 1997 on the one-year anniversary of the death of Monique Burr, his late wife, to continue her legacy of child protection and child advocacy.

Although our strategies may have changed over the years, our core mission has remained the same – protecting children through prevention education. Research shows that 95% of child sexual abuse is preventable through education, which is why we created the MBF Prevention Education Programs for children and youth.

To date, MBF has trained more than 5,000 facilitators who have reached more than 5 million students within 35 states, Washington D.C., and 5 additional countries.
